

Ethic of the unicist approach to reality based on its nature

Those who are willing to approach the nature of reality need to:

- 1) Seek for the path with the lowest energy consumption to influence reality
- 2) Diagnose situations consciously
- 3) Be aware of the available elements to act
- 4) Accept reality's limits
- 5) Have the necessary energy to influence each situation
- 6) Seek for synergy with the environment
- 7) Compete within a cooperative context
- 8) Add value and gain the counterpart
- 9) Know the field in which they are acting and the structure of its fundamentals
- 10) Be self-confident and validate all their diagnoses in the environment

The Unicist Research Institute